

Thank you for downloading
Decade Thirty's Timeline Tape :)

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Print the timeline tape to A4 size paper.
2. Cut around the outline.
3. Trim off the times that you do not want. For example, if you want your day to start at 6am, you would trim off the 4am and 5am blocks. Then if you want your day to end at 10pm, you would trim off any of the time blocks after 10pm.
4. Paste into your notebook or planner and start planning out your day :)

My printables are designed to be customisable by the consumer (you); therefore, at this stage, there are no plans for the timeline tape to be made into stickers or labels. The quality of the product will depend on your printer settings, and I have ensured that all of my handwritten fonts have been finished to standard quality.

Please remember that you have downloaded a handwritten item; therefore, penmanship idiosyncrasies and quirks will be evident throughout the product. I believe this is what gives my products a unique quality and finish that I hope you will enjoy :)

THE BORING BUT IMPORTANT STUFF:

This timeline tape is for personal use only and not for commercial sale, use, reduplication/replication or distribution.

If you like the timeline tape, please considering purchasing alternative designs from my Etsy Store: Decade Thirty. If you have any questions, please email me dozmtz@gmail.com or DM me on Instagram (@decadethirty) or contact me on Google+ (Dee Martinez).
